URGES DELAY ON NATION'S LEAGUE; OPINIONS DIFFER

Senator Knox Would Postpone Question Till Treaty is Signed

SAYS OPPOSITION NOT GOVERNED BY PARTIES

Would Also Delay Action on Wilson's Freedom of Seas Plan

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Dec. 18.—Declaring that the widest diversity of opinion exists regarding formation of a league of nations and on the definition of freedom of the seas, Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, formerly secretary of state, in an address to the senate today urged postponement of these questions until after the peace conference.

Just before Senator Knox spoke, the foreign relations committee had discussed and decided to delay action until Saturday on its resolution which would record the senate in favor of such postponement and also call for the withdrawal of American military and naval forces from Europe and abrogation of the president's extraordinary war powers.

Chairman Hitchcock said later that division of opinion in the committee on the resolution was not confined to party lines. He would not predict what action finally might be taken. "The function of the peace conference," Senator Knox declared in the senate, "is to settle issues with the enemy. Revision of the marine laws and a league of nations, however, are issues between ourselves."

He said that the committee was not to be complicated with "simple demands" of the peace treaty. Instead of a league of nations, Senator Knox suggested a definite entente, provided it be a real and not a nominal one, binding only limited and appropriate obligations.

The league of nations, he said, should "await exhaustive consideration." "Even without an entente," the senator said, "except for the unfinished business of enforcing and insuring our war aims, the United States can, without entanglement, whatever place in advance of the peace conference, the whole of its influence, and of its potential power, be done by a new declaration of some correspondence to the Monroe doctrine, a declaration that a menace to the liberty of Europe is a menace to America, and that America will consult her friends and prepare for action if ever such menace shall arise again."

UKRAINIANS ARE NOW IN ODESSA

Banks In Nikolaiev and Odessa Put Money on Board British Destroyers In Harbor.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Dec. 18.—Confirmed reports have reached London that Odessa, the great Russian seaport on the Black Sea, has been occupied by the forces of the Ukrainian leader Petlura, who is anti-German and a separatist. Heedful dispatches from the Associated Press correspondent at Odessa, dated December 10 and December 11, report the arrival of Petlura forces at Nikolaiev, northeast of Odessa on December 10. The Russian volunteer forces there retreated and the Germans refused to interfere.

The banks there put their money on board British destroyers in the Black Sea and the city now is probably in the hands of General Grigorieff of the Petlura forces.

The situation was reported to be approximately the same at Odessa, except that Petlura himself was in charge of a force marching on the city. There is an abundant population in Odessa. Of more than 1,200,000, one-third of them are refugees from Great Russia.

The British and French forces in Odessa have erected a cordon, barred entry about the principal wharves. They will protect the stores taken from the Germans but otherwise, it is said, will not interfere in the fighting in Odessa.

The presence in Odessa of armed forces of diverse races with conflicting hatred and the lack of communication with the outside world has caused many persons there to fear a renewal of the Bolshevik regime of a year ago. All citizens go about the streets armed.

Three British and a number of destroyers including two French, are in the harbor of Odessa with a small force of marines.

SENATE COMMITTEE IS CONSIDERING SUBJECTS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Dec. 18.—Special subjects before the senate foreign relations committee at its weekly meeting today were resolutions by Senators Johnson of California and Knox of Pennsylvania, respectively, demanding an official statement of the American policy regarding this nation's plans and purposes in Russia and for postposition of the defining of a league of nations and freedom of the seas until after the peace treaty.

Senator Knox, it was understood told the committee in executive session that the question of a league of nations and freedom of the seas should not be included in the formal peace treaty but should be deferred for separate consideration.

The resolution of Senator Johnson was introduced last week when the discussed Russian affair at length and declared that there is general ignorance regarding this nation's plans and purposes in Russia, where, he asserted, are fighting Russians without formal declaration of war.

ADMIRAL BEATTY PRAISES YANKEES IN GRAND FLEET

Addresses Sailors on Board New York as U. S. Ships Depart

ALWAYS FEARED ENEMY WOULD NOT COME OUT

Declares Day of Surrender of Hun Fleet Was Pitiful Day

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Dec. 18.—The American battleship squadron attached to the British grand fleet displayed a spirit of true comradeship throughout its period of service declared Admiral Sir David Beatty, the commander-in-chief of the grand fleet in a farewell address on board the United States battleship New York, on December 17, the day the squadron was detached from the grand fleet. All hands had been called to muster on the foredeck to hear Admiral Beatty.

After thanking the American officers and men for their cooperation, Sir David remarked that both the British and the Americans were disappointed at not having been able to meet the German fleet. He declared that the day the German fleet surrendered was a "pitiful day to see." Sir David said he had always had misgivings that the Germans would never come out for a final fight and these misgivings had been strengthened by the coming of the American squadron.

"I could not let the sixth battle squadron go without coming on board the New York and saying something of what I feel at this moment of parting," said Sir David. "I had intended to ask Admiral Rodman to permit me to say something to the representatives of all the ships of the sixth battle squadron on board his flagship but the exigencies of the service have not permitted it. Therefore, as Admiral Rodman has suggested, what I say to you I hope you will promulgate to your comrades in the other ships and also to your comrades in the Atlantic fleet."

"What I do hope you will understand comes from the heart, not only my heart but the hearts of your comrades of the grand fleet. I want first of all to thank you, Admiral Rodman, and the captains and officers and ships companies of this magnificent squadron for the wonderful co-operation and loyalty you have given me and my admirals and the assistance you have given me every day you have had to undertake."

"The support which you have shown is that of true comradeship and in time of stress that is worth a very great deal. As somebody said the other day: 'The fighting is done and the talking now is going to begin.'"

"I know quite well that you, as well as your British comrades, were bitterly disappointed at not being able to give the Germans the efficiency you have so well maintained. It was most disappointing day. It was a pitiful day to see those great ships coming in like sheep being herded by dogs to their fold without an effort on anybody's part but it was a day everybody could be proud of."

"I have always had misgivings and when the sixth battle squadron became part of the grand fleet those misgivings were doubly engendered and I then decided the enemy would throw up their hands. Apparently the sixth battle squadron was the straw that broke the camel's back."

"However, the disappointment that the grand fleet was unable to strike their blow for the freedom of the world is counteracted by the fact that it was their pretense alone that brought about this achievement."

"During the last twelve months you have been with us, we have learned to know each other very well. We have learned to respect each other. I want you to take back a message to the Atlantic fleet that you have left a very warm place in the hearts of the grand fleet which cannot be filled until you come back or send another squadron to represent you. You have given us a sample of the Atlantic fleet, which I think the Atlantic fleet, excellent as it is, will find it very hard to replace."

"I thank you again and again for the great part the sixth battle squadron has played in bringing about the hope you will give this message to your comrades: 'Come back soon! Goodbye, and good luck!'"

DEMobilIZATION MAY BE DELAYED A YEAR OR MORE

Secretary Daniels Says Conditions In Europe May Cause It

SEES END TO COMPETITIVE NAVY BUILDING IN FUTURE

Cabinet Officers Address Meeting of Governors At Annapolis Today

(Associated Press Telegram) Annapolis, Md., Dec. 18.—At least a year, possibly two years, will be required before the nation can return to normal peace conditions and "we will be fortunate if conditions abroad make demobilization possible at so early a date," said Secretary Daniels here today, addressing the conference of state governors.

The navy, said the secretary, must be increased and strengthened to enable the United States to contribute as many units as any other nation to an international police force, but he added: "I look to see the peace conference put an end to competitive big navy building."

Secretary Daniels also addressing the conference stressed the necessity to do everything in their power to keep state branches of the council of national defense from disintegrating. He emphasized Secretary Baker's recent declaration that "these local councils should remain in existence to cooperate with federal agencies although not acting as federal institutions."

The cabinet members' addresses followed a discussion by the governors of future policies for the state national guard organizations. Wide differences of opinion developed, some governors advocating return to the old national guard system, others advocating a new military training by the federal government and others urging that the time is not ripe for determining future internal military policies.

When Secretary Daniels over-optimistic hopes for the return of all American soldiers from abroad, Secretary Daniels said: "It required a year and a half with ability to control the British ships to help carry two million soldiers to France. Even if there was no need for soldiers overseas—and that need is apparent—it would be a fine organization that could be turned into a home defense force. Naval ships have been turned into transports to help in this big job, and men in the naval service are being rapidly brought home. But some ships and some men will stay until a permanent peace blesses the world."

Turning to the growth of the navy, the secretary said: "The American navy must be increased and strengthened. I am asking congress not to make any new departures but to authorize another three year program."

The United States lost less by the war than any other great nation. It is the richest nation and has the longest shore lines. It should, therefore, contribute to the international police a large and powerful force. And for the three year program is necessary."

WILSON TO MEET KING OF ITALY

Will Have Conferences With Victor Emanuel In Paris Tomorrow—Will Discuss Peace.

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, March 18.—Much interest attaches to the conferences which President Wilson will have with King Victor Emanuel in Paris tomorrow. It has been said by the president's associates that he will go further into the subject of Italy's position at the peace conference than he has done in the past. The king, having already had several informal talks during the voyage from America to France with Count Macchi di Cellere, Italian ambassador and high commissioner to the United States as well as another discussion of these questions yesterday.

It is known that the president feels the warmest sympathy for the purposes which led Italy to enter the war. He is expected to discuss the Italian government, which feels that it should go further than is indicated by this outline. This is one of the subjects which Mr. Wilson discussed yesterday with Di Ciano. He is believed to have told the extent to which the American representatives were willing to go in the forthcoming informal conferences with the premiers of the entente governments in support of Italy's claims arising out of the war.

DOES NOT FAVOR PROPOSALS

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Dec. 18.—By this moment President Wilson has not expressed himself in favor of any of the various propositions that have been advanced as regards the creation of a league of nations, says a statement issued today by the American peace commission.

NURSE'S CLASS HONORS TEACHER

Mrs. Frank Ray Is Presented With Gift as Token of Her Services During Instruction Period.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Frank Ray, chairman of the local unit of the Red Cross, who has just completed the six weeks' instruction of two classes in nurses' training, was the central figure in a charmingly appointed surprise party given by both classes Tuesday evening at the home of the secretary, Mrs. George Fitch McKibben. The first part of the evening was devoted to the written examination of the team's work, following which the afternoon class entered in a body and the affair began to assume the aspect of a party. The best evidence that it was a surprise to the teachers was the fact that they had not known, so that she "could have worn her new dress." Mrs. C. J. Rose having secured recognition from the chair, made an eloquent little speech in which she thanked the teachers for their work, and the love of the 40 pupils, for the splendid service rendered by Mrs. Ray in thus broadening their vision and increasing their power of helpfulness in the home and in the community. With the closing wish that Mrs. Ray might "like Moses of old, live to the age of 120 years, with eye undimmed and natural force unabated," the speaker presented an artistically wrapped package to that astonished honor guest.

Quickly recovering her poise, Mrs. Ray made a graceful rejoinder, and on beholding the exquisite piece of old silver which emerged from its Christmas wrappings, she exclaimed with fervor: "I hope I may live to be 120 years old, in order to enjoy this beautiful gift. One thing is sure, ladies," she concluded, "if we should have another outbreak of illness in Granville, I think we could run a hospital on the most approved methods." Then the hostess, Mrs. McKibben, was "called to the carpet" by Mrs. Odebrecht, who in behalf of the two classes expressed appreciation for the use of the McKibben home for the 24 lessons, and as a slight token of great regard, presented a magnificent bouquet of long-stemmed poinsettias. Mrs. McKibben responded in a few graceful phrases, in which she made clear her own enjoyment of the privilege. Refreshments were served by the hostess and the first social affair of the season proceeded to its happy conclusion.

2-WEEKS RECESS TO START FRIDAY

School Board Decides to Grant Usual Christmas Vacation to Pupils of Public Schools.

At a regular meeting of the school board held last evening presided over by Vice President J. M. Mitchell, owing to the absence of President Wm. E. Miller, it was decided to grant the usual two weeks holiday vacation, the fall semester ending Friday afternoon.

Superintendent Oren J. Barnes submitted a brief report stating that the epidemic of influenza which had been raging among the pupils of the different schools of the city when it made its first appearance, was well under control, due in a great measure to the care and caution exercised by the teachers and school officials, which has resulted in an excellent system of ventilation.

Superintendent Barnes stated that when the flu made its appearance over 900 pupils were reported absent and that at present less than 400 were reported absent, only a few of whom had genuine cases of flu, the remainder being absent on account of colds and light attacks of grip.

A check protector was purchased by the board and other routine business transacted including the allowance of a number of bills and after the officers, teachers and janitors pay roll was approved the board adjourned to meet the first Tuesday evening in the new year.

- ### Twelve Important Points— and Each Point a Feature
- ☐ Motor: The motor is suspended at three points. Extra water space surrounds the cylinder jacket. An air washer cleans the motor of dirt, grit, and any other substance. In this way the efficiency of the motor is greatly increased.
 - ☐ Radiator: The radiator is of tubular type. Extra large hand hole makes possible easy cleaning and any repairing caused by accident.
 - ☐ Oiling: Forced feed oiling to all bearings. This method of oiling will splash feed but is sure and safer. Forced feed costs more than constant oil level—up hill or down.
 - ☐ Fuel: Burns kerosene or gasoline without any change or adjustment. Fuel tank holds 22 gallons; with extra large hand hole, enabling one to clean the tank easily. Reserve gasoline tank holding three gallons.
 - ☐ All Moving Parts Enclosed: All moving parts enclosed and self-oiling. All moving parts waterproof, and dustproof. No moving parts exposed except the four wheels.
 - ☐ Power Take-Off: A feature of the design of the Samson (Model M) is the "power take-off pulley" acting as a brake when in field use. This brake, handled by the clutch pedal makes change of gears safe and easy to car construction.
 - ☐ Clutch: A plate clutch is used, which is self-adjusting and runs in oil.
 - ☐ Grease Cups: There are but three grease cups on the entire tractor. (On most tractors there are too many to count.) All three grease cups are in plain view. One is on the fan and two on the front axle.
 - ☐ Lubrication: Lubricating oil is applied only at two points, and from there distributed to all moving parts—and only two kinds of oil are used. The motor and clutch require the regular cylinder oil and transmission and axle require a heavy transmission oil.
 - ☐ Governor: Motor speed is regulated by a mechanical governor.
 - ☐ Simplicity of Construction: The simplicity of construction is understood when it is learned that it requires only three box wrenches to take down and put together the Samson (Model M) Tractor.
 - ☐ Tool Kit: The entire contents of the tool kit consists of three box wrenches. How many do you find as necessary equipment on the ordinary tractor? The Samson (Model M) Tractor does not even require an oil can.

THE NEW SECRETARY.

It is refreshing to note that on the floor of the House of Representatives Monday afternoon Mr. Mann, the Republican leader, praised Carter Glass and said that no better choice of a successor to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo could have been made. Mr. Glass who will rely upon Mr. McAdoo's staff in the management of the office, is a man of broad experience in financial and legitimate affairs and the history of his career shows that he is well qualified to take up the great work that Mr. McAdoo has so well done during the past six years.

BEATING BOLSHIEVISM.

The yellow peril of Bolshevism is spreading rapidly over Europe. It already has plenty of friends and sympathizers in this country.

The best way to deal with the extreme socialist doctrine called by the above name, is to do our level best to see that the working classes of this country get justice. In so far as the grievance of the laboring people are removed, in so far as they get a decent wage and a decent working day, and comfortable homes to live in, in so far as Bolshevism will be slow in getting a hold. When people are overworked and underpaid and live in hovels on scanty food, then it is that pernicious social doctrine makes progress.

Legislation favorable to the working masses is a safeguard against the red flag. If children are protected from the curse of child labor, if they are allowed to go to school until they have a decent education, if the home is a comfortable one, the young folks are not going out into life with crazy and destructive notions.

That is why this country has been fortunate to have at its head a man like President Wilson, who has been sympathetic with the laboring masses in their effort to better their conditions. When the country is run by politicians who take the capitalistic view, there is a certain indifference to many existing social wrongs. The cry of oppressed elements of society seem distant and remote and is not attended to.

A friend inquires what shall be done with all the enormous amount of surgical dressings that has been accumulated? Well, the peace conference at present outlook may need a few of them.

The Turks deny that they are living in idleness, as they can always take hold and massacre a few thousand more Armenians when there isn't anything else to do.

If you can't pay for having your house repaired and painted at present cost of labor, you can always offer the house in part payment for the job.

It looks like the same old rush just before Christmas, and presents sent by mail or express are guaranteed to be delivered by Washington's birthday.

OUR SPARE TIME.

For the past year people have been putting in an enormous amount of effort into unpaid war work. They have gladly given their time to making surgical dressings, knitting, sewing for the soldiers, canvassing for the war drives, etc. The necessity for this kind of work will largely but not wholly disappear within the next year. Now it remains to be seen what the people who have been engaged in these noble and public spirited efforts will do with the time thus set free.

Many of them are entitled to a good long rest from their efforts that have made no little drain on their health. But our home folks are active, and if they aren't doing one thing, it will be another.

Let us hope that after the war work goes by, all this spare time will not be put into amusements. In Newark as well as other places, there is always public work that could be done. There are cases of poverty and sickness that need sympathetic attention. Town improvements projects should be pushed.

Next spring there will be no end of things that can be done to make Newark more attractive. There are unsightly spots that should be improved, trees should be planted, beautification projects carried out. The schools always need more public co-operation. If our people would get as interested in them as they were in the war work, they could greatly improve educational sentiment, and make possible progressive steps that could not formerly be undertaken.

All these things depend on the willingness of people to take time from their own private interests and pleasures, and devote it to public work. They have shown they can do so in the war work. Now let us show the same spirit in our community movements.

We hereby give notice to our admiring friends, if any of them dare to give us a Christmas present consisting of a $25 plush album with brass clasps and toped leather cover, that the same has already been promised in advance to our favorite punk man.

The people who can't find time to write to the soldier boys are reminded that the Advocate only costs two cents and contains more home news than you would put into a letter in ten weeks.

MORE WORK FOR THE COLONEL.

(Philadelphia Record.)
Lloyd George's statement that he stands fast "for the abolition of conscript armies in all lands," and that without such action "the peace conference would be a failure and a sham," was clearly made without consultation with the world's greatest living authority in such matters. Need we say that we refer to the gallant soldier of Kettle Hill, that illustrious statesman who has so successfully wrecked two perfectly good political parties?

If there is any one thing that Mr. Roosevelt has definitely determined upon as one of the lessons to be learned from the great European war it is that the United States must adopt a system of conscript military training, so as to be always provided with a conscript army after the fashion of Germany. This is so elemental that it is a wonder that he has not already given orders to put this much-cherished plan of his into effect.

THE PERPLEXING NAVAL PROBLEM.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
A league of nations, colonies, and navies monopolize interest now the president has reached France for the conferences that are expected to settle the future of all three. Most people are disposed to give up trying to prescribe conditions for the league on account of the array of difficulties to be accommodated, but they continue to discuss on navies and colonies, as though those were matters easily disposed of.

One objection to most generalizing on the subject of navies is that it usually considers only the United States and Great Britain. But France and Italy are vitally concerned; in fact, it appears more necessary for them to have the navy question solved immediately than it is for us and our English ally. Consider Italy in this respect. She has lately come into a genuine place in the sun. Looking to her historic obligations of France and acting with thought to her own best interests, she performed a highly creditable part in the war, won a great victory, and earned a right to be considered one of the Great Powers. Italy may be said to have just come of age; this is her greatest day since the unification, the day the unification was preparing for her.

But to be a Great Power a country must have a great navy, for Powers have colonies where this surplus population goes to which absorb their manufactured goods and furnish raw materials. They must be protected. Under the old plan a navy is absolutely essential. If the old arrangement is stuck to, Italy must float some loans and embark on a naval program that will give her a fleet in keeping with her new position; if navies are to be controlled by agreement, she is just that much in a pocket for she will not need any more ships than she has now. France's position is relatively the same.

Ninety-five per cent of the German people, according to Schiedemann, are clamoring for a constitutional assembly. Well, then, why isn't a constitutional assembly being held?—Charleston News and Courier.

THE ADVOCATE'S TRAVELLING POST

Who fears to offend takes the first step to please.—Clibber.

Always Cross.
Her friends were not surprised, of course.

Such was her disposition. That when her husband asked divorce, She filed a cross-petition.

His Prosperity.
Aunt Culline says, "Obie Still's youngest brother

which went out west some few years ago, was back here on a visit this summer. He says the west's the place for a man to go that's got ambition and wants to make money. 'Why,' he says, 'five years ago when I went west,' he says, 'I hadn't a cent,' says he, 'can' now,' he says, 'I owe a thousand dollars,' he says.

If We Could Catch 'Em at It!
A rather neat little time has been provided by the Board of Health for the popular sport of spitting on the sidewalk and as we walked down town this morning we were surprised by the fact that anyone who could produce the other half of the evidence might turn a sum into the treasury that would cancel the city's indebtedness.

Dear, Dear!
If a body meet a body
When we're through the rye,
Can a body treat a body
If there's naught to buy?
—Newark Advocate.

Certainly a body can sir
If he will but try.
Produce a fluid that will answer
Better far than rye.

When to you a friend is nearing
Meet him on the jump.
And lead him straight way without feeling.

To the old town pump.
Grip his hand and call him brother
Then fill up the pail.
And drink the health of one another
In good Adam's ale.

It will suit you to the letter
And as years roll by,
You'll find your friend will love you better
Than if you drank rye.

TO LET IT PASS.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Republican senate leaders have apparently changed their program in relation to the pending revenue bill. Instead of forcing the measure over the new congress, unless they could persuade the majority to adopt their amendments, Penrose and his crowd appear now to have decided to make no more than a formal protest and then let the Democrats read whatever fruit of resentment may come of the act.

The present Penrose program, it is stated, is to discuss the measure, offer amendments, oppose with vigor the features relating to 1920 taxation and then let it be passed. This they figure will be sufficient to put the Republicans on record for political utility, and will not subject the party to the criticism of having blocked the passage of a vitally important bit of legislation.

It is estimated now that if the senate minority sticks to this hands off policy, the revenue bill will go to the president for his signature not later than February 10. The bill should have been passed months ago. Politics and procrastination have played football with it; and it may be proved in the end that in deciding now not to play politics with it any longer the Penrose group are in reality playing the cleverest of politics.

"EFFICIENCY" IN LYING.

(Omaha World-Herald.)

The whole world admits the "efficiency" in lying of the German rulers, both royal and state, and now the accused parties are giving evidence to sustain that charge themselves. The Christian Science Monitor prints a special cablegram in which the following occurs:

"The Tagliche Rundschau, commenting on the Kaiser's abdication states that the document does not affect the rights of his descendants. Meanwhile the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung states that von Bethmann-Hollweg admits having advised the Kaiser to take a trip to Norway in 1914, in the hope of easing the tension of the general situation, but emphatically denies that the government sent the Kaiser away in order to pursue the war undisturbed."

In that statement Bethmann-Hollweg accuses Herr Hohenzollern of deliberate lying, for it was he who made the statement. It appears that there are still some Germans who believe the "right divine" still abides in the descendants of the abdicated emperor.

CONSCRIPTION TO STAY.

(Ohio State Journal)

Major General Crowder says there will be no more volunteer armies, and every one knows so, too. It may take a little of the romance out of war to say that men have got to go into the army, but that is the only logical and sensible course. In emergencies the country cannot wait until the volunteers. Nor does it seem right that a country should beg people to come and save their country. And then, volunteering doesn't seem fair, for it does not secure a proper distribution of duty. It is a burden that all should share and conscription is the only method left to secure it. Of course the drafting process should be improved and the exemptions should be much curtailed. The draft method is the patriotic one after all, because it is fair to all and distributes the honor of service equitably among all.

That "ness," a geographical termination, means promontory? Names ending in "ness" abound among the Orkney and Shetland Islands and on the coast of Cheshire. As the corresponding Scandinavian termination, "naes," prevails in the names of promontories in Norway, Sweden and Denmark, the existence of names ending in "ness" in Britain is held as an evidence of Scandinavian and Danish colonization.

The Sturdy Overland Models Stand the Cross-Country Trip Without a Falter.

W. H. MOORE and wife of Alpena, Mich., in a Country Club and A. C. Faulley and wife of Pontiac, Mich., in a Model 90 left Alpena on May 28 for a journey across the continent to Everett, Wash.

Since their start west the party visited ten states including Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington. The general route was and by the way they can tell you tales of real fishing, too.

"We found the people out west very cordial to tourists. From the time we left Chicago we were hardly ever alone. Twenty-five to forty machines would tour along together for days. In a great many western cities they have arranged camping places especially for tourists. These places have water piped to them which is, of course, free, and over the Lincoln Highway to the Oregon Trail, thence west to the Pacific Highway, and north. Returning trip was through the Dakotas.

About ten thousand miles was covered and during all this trip neither one of the cars suffered the least mishap and not a penny was spent for repairs. Only once were they compelled to stop at a garage for service and that was to change a tire.

Mrs. Moore says that their cars went "many places" where no other cars could go, and once in particular they forded a river where forty or more cars of other makes were waiting for the waters to subside.

"It was a delightful trip," says Mrs. Moore. "We planned to rough it and we did. No hotels to bother with. When night came, we camped by the wayside, cooked our meals, stopped a day or two wherever our fancy led us. When the men wanted to go fishing we stopped and fished in many cases gas is piped so you can hook on your gas stove for cooking a meal. These kinds of accommodations cause tourists to select those cities and routes where such kind of service can be secured.

"The trip was made at a most moderate cost. Going out the cost was about $170. That included everything—board for the four of us and enough fresh meat each day for 'the family dog' which accompanied us; gasoline, oil—in fact, everything. Coming back the trip totaled about one hundred dollars.

"Throughout the entire trip we have averaged twenty miles per gallon of gasoline, including the long stretches through the Rocky Mountains, and the sands of the desert.

"These Overlands never failed us once. We had no engine trouble and only one puncture. Some of the original tires were on the cars after the completion of the entire trip."

CATARHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or a growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Imitant (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easier, the mucus stop flowing into the throat. It is easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. T. J. Evans. (Adv.)

SHERIDAN GOES EAST AFTER CHECK FORGER

Police Chief James Sheridan left at midnight last night for Washington, Pa., and expects to return this evening with Arthur Riddle, who will be charged with forgery. It was necessary to secure a requisition as Riddle appeared before a judge and waived his rights as being to return to this city without such service.

Riddle is alleged to be the young man who attempted to pass a counter check for $50, signed by C. A. Grill, on the First National bank, Cashier Norton Butler, recognizing it as a forgery as soon as presented. The young man broke for the street when he saw Butler coming after him and made his escape, and Chief Sheridan, through a clever bit of detective work, traced him to Washington.

Fine Figures

If you will look about you will notice that there are more women who work that have fine figures than among the unemployed ones. There is everything in one's attitude toward a thing. Of course there is the pleasure of company and something in the delight of movements to music, but it is largely in the mental attitude.

If you drop your embroidery, or needle and thread do not call for someone to pick them up. Arise quickly, stand firmly on both feet, heels together, and stoop over, without bending the knees. Pick up the desired article and feel grateful to it for giving you the chance to exercise. Dusting is the best exercise one can take. You can stoop over, always without bending the knees, reach up and stretch and exercise the arms and shoulders as well as the hips and limbs.

If you wish to exercise to limber the muscles, just walk quickly about the room and pick up scraps from the floor, even if you have to imagine them without passing in your walk. You can cultivate agility of limb by this little household duty.

One does not have to go to a gymnasium for exercise if you have work to do at home, and every girl, no matter how luxuriously brought up, should be taught to make her own bed and clean her own room, if only for the exercise it will give her. Washing and hanging up clothes in the yard and ironing them is all fine exercise, which is modified somewhat by new inventions of machinery.

It is all a question of choice whether a woman groans and moans and worries herself until she has cultivated a disagreeable face and a slouching form from discontented resentment of her work, or a fine form, well rounded, symmetrical figure and a happy, contented face from the joy of finding opportunities for exercise while she is doing her housekeeping duties.

Our Boys and Girls

All of baby's woollens should be rinsed in water of the same temperature of the water in which they have been washed. Never wring them out. Just squeeze, shake and hang so the necks will not stretch or pull. The little wooden form that come for shirts and bands are very nice to use as they keep them in place to dry.

Woolen stockings should be washed quickly wrong side out and stretched into shape while damp. They are apt to shrink a little unless placed on stretchers but they should not turn yellow or lose their color. It is better to wash them in a suds and not rub soap on them. Of course with a child that is walking and playing about the sides of the stockings may be rubbed with a little soap.

Mending wool should be washed out before it is used in hot water so it will not shrink later. Woolen caps should be washed separately and pulled into shape from time to time in drying. A woolen sweater should be dried in a heap, being gently lifted and kneaded and turned from time to time as it lies near a heater or in the sun in a Turkish towel. It should never be pulled or stretched in any way.

LOAN DRIVES COSTLY.

Washington, Dec. 18.—At cost the government $23,750,000 to raise $17,750,000,000 in the liberty loan and war savings stamp campaigns. These figures were made public yesterday when the house committee on expenditures in the treasury department gave out the report of former Secretary McAdoo.

Some women make up for lost time and others just make up.

ALLOTMENT CHECKS ARE MAILED DEC. 11

Men in camps and cantonments need not worry about the folks at home not receiving payments of allotments and allowances. The Red Cross made inquiry recently at the War Risk Insurance Bureau about the delay of September and October payments.

A wire from Washington to the Lake Division Department of Civilian Relief says that these checks were to be mailed December 11.

Half a Century Ago

Half a Century Ago every community could be supplied to some extent with locally dressed meat, drawing on live stock raised nearby.

Now two-thirds of the consuming centers, with millions of people, are one to two thousand miles away from the principal live-stock producing sections, which are sparsely settled.

The American meat packing industry of today is the development of the best way to perform a national service.

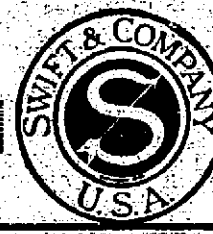

The function of providing meat had to develop accordingly. Those men who first grasped the elements of the changing problem created the best facilities to meet it—large packing plants and branch houses at strategic points, refrigerating equipment (including cars), car routes, trained organization, profitable outlets for former waste—which became the natural, inevitable channels for the vast flow of meat across the country.

If there were a better way to perform this necessary service, American ingenuity and enterprise would have discovered it, and others would now be using it.

During 1918, Swift & Company has earned a profit on meats (and meat by-products) of less than 2½ cents per dollar of sales—too small a profit to have any appreciable effect on prices.

Associated Press Telegram.
Chicago, Dec. 18.—Consolidated weakness in the corn market resulted today from a notice issued by the food administration that practically all war rules governing the grain trade had been cancelled and that circumstances now warranted the restoration of normal conditions. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2c off to 1/8c advance, with January 1.35 to 1.36 3/4c and May 1.35 to 1.37 1/4c, were followed by a material setback around noon and then by a rally. Oats sagged with corn. After opening unchanged to 3/4c up with January 71 1/2c to 71 3/4c, the market underwent a moderate decline. Provisions averaged lower. There was no special demand.

Wall Street.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Dec. 18.—Speculative issues were the conspicuous features at the dull but firm opening of today's stock market, while standard issues remained in the background. Oil and motor accessories, especially the rubber group gained 1 to 3 points. Shipplings and secondary equipments also strengthened with copper the latter reflecting the formation of the new export organization. Beet sugar and leathers were reactionary and uncertain course. Pressure against leaders caused a general setback before the end of the first hour. Rails, shippings, steels, equipments and utilities were most affected, marine preferred being the first prominent issue to react at a 2-point decline, and Western Petroleum declining 2 1/2 points. U. S. Steel yielded only a fraction, but Bethlehem and Crucible Steels fell 1 to 1 1/2 points. Low-priced rails, such as New Haven and St. Paul, were freely offered, Pacifiacs and coalers also falling back. Liberty fourth 4 1/4's approximated the low record of yesterday.

PROPOSES TREATY AMONG PEOPLE OF SLAV NATIONS.
Washington, Dec. 18.—The Polish government has proposed that a treaty be signed by Poland, Bohemia and Yugoslavia, says the National Zeitung of Basel, according to a dispatch received today. Grabski, a national democrat of Poland, is the leader in the planned convention which would include military, railway and commercial agreements, closely uniting this group of new states to the nations of the entente powers. The treaty would include all Prussian territory inhabited by Poles, who would number in the new country about 35,000,000 people. Hungary, according to the National Zeitung, which is a German pro-Austrian, desires to be included in the alliance and it is reported that the same tendency is being found in Vienna.

CHECK AND ABORT A BAD COLD

In Five Hours With MENTHOLAXENE.

You Buy It Concentrated and Mix With Pint of Syrup.

Doubtless every reader recalls having neglected a slight cold until in 24 hours it settled into a "bad cold" and then about 72 hours of distress, discomfort, if not weeks of bronchitis or pneumonia or catarrh. Now confess, if you've had such an experience and take time by the forelock by preparing to check and abort colds, coughs, catarrh, difficult breathing, watering eyes and painful headaches. It can be done, by taking Menthob-Laxene either in its raw state—ten drops to the dose—or by making a granulated sugar syrup and mixing in a pint bottle or jar. A pint will last a whole family for a long time and keeps every member free from the distressing after-effects of a bad cold. Menthob-Laxene is guaranteed to please or money back by The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, and any well stocked druggist can supply you. Don't take a substitute. There is really nothing to compare with Menthob-Laxene. (Adv.)

THE MONTH'S MUSICAL NEWS

CARUSO, FIRED WITH PASSION, SINGS GARIBALDI'S HYMN

Gluck, McCormack, Schumann-Heink and other world-famed artists delight Victor audiences with their interpretations

NO opera aria has ever stirred this master tenor to such profound depths of emotion as this hymn of his native country which he interprets on a new Victor Record. This hymn was composed for Garibaldi when he drove the Austrians from the plains of Lombardy and was able to gaze upon the city of Trent, but not to enter it. Today the troops of Diaz have reached that promised city. All that Garibaldi ever fought for has been won. Garibaldi's Hymn is stirring at all times, but with the soul of Caruso aroused as he sings it, you never heard anything like it. There is a divine rage that will bring you to your feet, with your blood tingling.

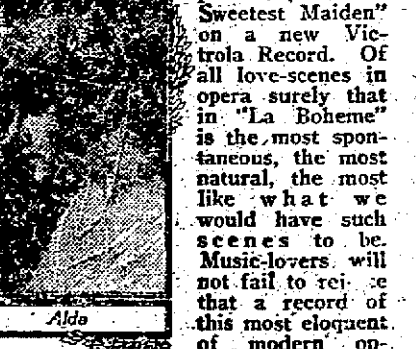

Those interested in the Zionist movement to repatriate the Jews in Palestine will welcome the interpretation by Gluck and Zimbalist of the Zionist hymn "Hatikva" (Our Hope) on a Victor Record just issued. The words are said to be suggested by the well-known Polish national song, and the tune by a Roumanian folk-song. The melody is first heard in a brilliant arrangement for the violin alone. The voice then enters, with a richly harmonized orchestral accompaniment. Letting our thoughts wander soldierward, while our boys still "over there" are anxiously awaiting the final word that shall bring them to all they hold dear once more there are many of them that have heard the vision depicted in "Dreaming of Home, Sweet Home." Charles Harrison sings this song on a new Victor Record. The sentiment is tender, yet the melody is a rather lively march tune. He sings forth "Home, Sweet Home" between the verses.

McCormack gives a thrill singing "When You Come Back"

You will welcome that song of hope and affection for the Yankee lads, "When You Come Back," with your double welcome it when you learn that John McCormack sings it on a new Victor Record. You have heard this, Cohan's latest and greatest song hit of course, but it is safe to say you never heard it as McCormack sings it. Every syllable of the words, every pulsing beat of the music, he endows with noble conviction. He sees, and makes you see, the great transports loaded with the returning hosts swinging into the safe harbors of America to meet with such a rapture of welcome as the land has never before experienced. Into this popular march the beloved tenor has put a feeling that sings the song right into your own heart.

Reverting to opera Francis Alda and Giovanni Martinelli give a delightful "Boheme" interpretation. "Thou Sweetest Maiden" on a new Victor Record. It is all love scenes in opera surely that in "La Boheme" is the most spontaneous, the most natural, the most like what we would have such scenes to be. Music-lovers will not fail to recognize that a record of this most eloquent of modern operatic duets has been made by Alda and Martinelli. Each artist is gifted with that intense warmth of temperament demanded by this most poetic of operas; and their voices blend with exquisite effect.

A love-song in another key is presented by Olive Kline with the Orpheus Quartet on a Victor Record just issued, "A Little Birch Canoe (and You)." It is a dainty melody, and Miss Kline sings it daintily, too. The Orpheus Quartet, the first of which is a quartet of male voices in the refrain, suggests a certain depth of harmonic coloring that is very grateful to the ear amid so much that is light and cheerful.

Elms Quartet plays a Tchaikovsky number

And a delightful number it is that this organization of artists devoted to chamber music recitals gives on a new Victor Record—"Andante Cantabile." Mischel Homan himself plays the lead in the melodies, the first of which is a genuine folk-tune of Russian origin. Undoubtedly this melody has served to gain for the composition the genuine popularity which it enjoys, and the rendition by this noted quartet is a rare exhibition of the beauty of string music. No matter how old a song or tune may be a new note in it is bound to be struck at the hands of some great artist. And so it happens with that old battle-hymn of the church militant, "Onward Christian Soldiers" interpreted by the famous Schumann-Heink on a new Victor Record. If this grand hymn has suffered at the hands of ardent but unwise singers who spoil it by singing too fast, Schumann-Heink restores it to its pristine glory by using a clearly defined but unhurried rhythm that brings out all the native strength latent in the noble melody.

"Having ears to hear, we hear not" is literally true of many of us as we journey along life's highway for there is much that escapes us because we are not attuned to the voice of nature. Not so with Charles Kellogg, for to him the woods and fields are an open book. No sound escapes his ear, and the voices of the feathered and furry things are rich with meaning. Not only can he hear these sounds but, luckily, he can produce them for us, which he has done in "Sunder of the Forest" on a new Victor Record. The reproductions of this nature-artist are indeed remarkable. The simple but lucid explanations given by Kellogg before each call are immensely illuminating. "You know, Tony who keeps a barber-shop, and cuts your throat from ear to ear? Let this serve as your introduction to Billy Murray's presentation of a song called 'Tony's Goes over the Top' on a new Victor Record. The music is just full of Tony's own particular 'pep,' and you'll walk a little faster as you go along the street humming this lively tune. In the record Arthur Fields and the Peerless Quartet sing 'Good Morning, Mr. Zip-Zip-Zip.' This is a typical soldier song, brisk, lively, and sharp as a needle. Anti-aircraftists will appreciate the line 'Ashes to ashes and dust to dust, if the Camels don't get you the Fatimas must.'"

Dance music with a "kick" in it

If half the pleasure in dance music depends on the way it is played you know the reason for the popularity of Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra, which, fortunately, all devotees of the dance may enjoy by means of Victor Records. One of the latest records that this Orchestra has made is "Mary" a fox-trot with a song in it, which is equivalent to a saying a dance number with a kick in it. By the time the singing starts you'll be ready to sing, too—it's the kind to make you want to.

The other side of this record contains "Rock-a-Bye Baby" fox-trot. It is just as full of "pep" as "Mary" with plenty of instrumental variety to keep you moving.

A novelty in dance music is found on a new Victor Record by Bernie and Baker who play the violin in combination. These two artists are real musicians who also have a proper appreciation of rag-time. They present two delightful numbers on this record, "My Mind's Made Up to Mary" and "A Fox-Trot."

Beautiful "Madame Butterfly!" And how refreshing is the "Duet of Flowers" which Frances Alda and Sophie Braslau sing on a new Victor Record. As fresh as the hope that "springs eternal in the human breast" of Butterfly as she prepares in joyous anticipation for the return of her American husband, the part of Butterfly you feel the indescribable intensity of emotion of the woman who has lived only for her absent husband all these years. The part of sympathetic Suzuki, her faithful maid, is most admirably sustained by Sophie Braslau. And the two sing their way through the glorious enraptured music of one of the loveliest numbers in the entire opera.

The dramatic arrival of the United States troops in France is most vividly portrayed by Reinold Werrenrath in an unusual song on a new Victor Record, "The Americans Come!" A blinded French man hears the call of trumpets and the beat of drums, and asks his son what it means. The boy goes to the window and sees ranks of great bronzed soldiers bearing the Stars and Stripes! This brilliant baritone is in his element in such a song as this, where his interpretative powers have free course. On the reverse of the record, Laurence Murphy and the Orpheus Quartet sing "A military musical mess" cooked up by the boys of Camp Upton, entitled "I Can Always Find a Little Sunshine in the Y. M. C. A." It is a soldier boy's letter to his mother telling her not to worry for there is always a home-like spot to be found in the good old Y. M. C. A.

Marion Harris entertains on a new Victor Record with her own intimate way. She sings "After You've Gone"—a dark song in dialect, of which she is a past-mistress. It is all about a disconsolate lady of color who cannot bear the separation from her lover. The singer's clever skill presents a musical picture of the blighted affection that is not without an undercurrent of humor. The other side of the record contains the reverse of this sweetheart song, presented by Henry Burr, "I'm Glad I Can Make You Cry." It is the story of a white man gently "kidding" his little sweetheart. The music is particularly attractive and refreshing it is to be continually in touch with all that is newest and best in music! This is the happy lot of every Victor owner. Indeed everyone may avail himself of the opportunity by simply visiting the nearest Victor dealer from month to month and asking to hear the music of the month. Any Victor dealer will gladly play it for you.

VETERAN KRAFFT HAS FOUND A NEW OLD MAN'S FRIEND

Rheumatic Resident of Sandusky Home Gives This Title to Nerv-Worth.

Nerv-Worth is doing a wonderful work for debilitated soldiers at the Sandusky Home and many of them are so grateful that they want fellow-sufferers to learn of their happy experience through the papers. Mr. Krafft is one of these, and this is what he said at Sandusky and consented to have published.

The Graham Drug Store—"I have been in a bad rheumatic condition for 15 years. Used two crutches most of the time and one all the time. Was also extremely nervous and could not get restful sleep. Tossed about the bed all night and was tired and worn out in the morning. My hands trembled so that it was difficult to hold anything. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised and purchased a bottle and took it as directed and am glad to say it did the work. My nervousness is gone and I can now sleep soundly all night through. RHEUMATIC PAINS HAVE LEFT ME and I can now walk about without my crutch and am gaining strength daily. Nerv-Worth is the greatest remedy I have ever used or known of and is certainly 'the old man's best friend.' I shall always keep it on hand.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.

Wednesday.
Doris Kenyon, the winsome young screen star who will be featured at the Grand theatre on Thursday and Friday, in Louis Joseph Vance's story, "The Inn of the Blue Moon," has a commission in the regular army of the United States. She was the second woman to receive this honor, the first having been the celebrated diva, Mme. Schumann-Heink. Miss Kenyon's commission was given in appreciation of her enthusiastic and tireless work for the Liberty Loan and Red Cross. It is exactly similar to those of sergeants in the regular army, except that the word "honorary" precedes the designation. The commission, neatly framed, hangs in Miss Kenyon's dressing room in the De Luxe Studio in Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

"The Green God."
Muriel Temple was a beautiful girl, without a shadow in her life, until her father, bartered her for a Green God, stolen from a shrine. What would you do if your father traded you in marriage for a Chinese deity? See "The Green God."

Arthur Yule proved remarkably adept in imitations, and the Saxophone Serenaders were well received. The finale depicted a scene on the levee of a Southern steamboat town on the Mississippi river.—Arkansas Democrat.

"The Vanity Pool."
The Vanity Pool, Mary Mac Laren's latest Universal Special attraction, is a six-star photoplay for instead of having merely a group of ordinary actors and actresses in her support, the cast for the "American Beauty of the Screen's" newest production includes five of America's best known screen luminaries.

Franklyn Farnum, formerly a Bluebird star in his own right, shares leadership in the distinguished English Holding, the distinguished English great deal of useful knowledge. Willis was very fond of fruit, of which he was in the habit of eating a quantity every evening. One day he happened to say to his servant that he was not feeling very well. The Chinaman grumbled and then said: "You eat too much fruit—makes bellyache!" Willis took the tip and cut down on his fruit allowance. Seats go on sale Saturday, with mail orders now.

Surrender of German Fleet.
Mr. Fenberg received a wire from the Film Exchange telling him a special one-reeler had been brought overseas showing the surrender of the German fleet and at no stop at the cost he immediately booked it for showing at the Auditorium Friday and Saturday and will be seen together with "America's Answer."

GEM.
Jack Sturgiss, a thorough cad, marries Ruth Wells, a shop girl. Their marriage remains secret until Ruth is taken ill. The father of Sturgiss, although well-meaning, but firm, in his belief of blood and pedigree, causes the annulment of this marriage. Young Sturgiss goes to Alaska, where he meets Ruby McGraw, proprietress of the General Store, who marries him and becomes his domestic slave. Wm. S. AUDITORIUM.

Tonight.
The last screenings of the big sensational hit, "For Husbands Only," the picture that Mrs. Charles Chaplin (Mildred Harris) has attracted large crowds to the Auditorium the past two days, will be given this evening. This picture, produced by Lois Weber, the Belasco of the screen, is perhaps the best show so far seen in Newark. It is so good that several propositions have been made Miss Weber by legitimate theatrical producers for the story. Miss Weber has surrounded Miss Harris with an elaborate setting, the cast is good, the scenic investiture never before was more applicable. The sets are really remarkable, magnificent in their simplicity, were designed for the interior private theatre of the millionaire, where a portion of the action takes place, and in this action Miss Weber engaged the famous Dennis Shawn dancers, the advanced pupils of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, to star, who has been featured in a score of productions.

Maria Sals, former Kalem star, Anna Q. Nilsson, former Metro star, and Virginia Chesler, former Biograph and Mena star, all have important feminine roles in support of Mary Mac Laren.

"Vanity Pool" was based on the story by Nathro Bartley and has been turned into a colorful and convincing screen success by Ida May Park, Universal's famous woman director. "Vanity Pool" comes to the Auditorium theatre Sunday.

"America's Answer."

In France many of the old monasteries are being used not only for shelters and canteens for the American troops, but also by the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and other organizations for their work. Some of them have been transformed into hospitals. It is characteristic of the American spirit and training that these religious buildings are treated with the greatest respect and that everything possible is men for his strength and loved by all for his goodness of heart, was the admirer and self-appointed protector of Ruby, Gem Thursday.

ALHAMBRA.
Tonight and Tomorrow.
Peggy Hyland, whose advances to the first rank of moving pictures stars has been extremely rapid, appears today and tomorrow at the Alhambra theatre in her latest film success "Marriages Are Made." This strong photodrama gives a most informing and faithful presentation of the workings of the German spy system in the United States.

Also Fatty Arbuckle in "Fatty the Tough Rube." This makes a very good program today and tomorrow.

Friday and Saturday.

Diamonds and rubies or a little boy's friendship—which shall he choose? That is the problem which confronts Boston Blackie, played by the clever Metro star, Bert Lytell, in the dramatic picture play, "Boston Blackie's Little Pal," which will be the attraction at the Alhambra theatre Friday and Saturday.

Readers' Viewpoint

Remember the Newsboys.

To Patrons of Newark Dailies: Dear Reader—Did you ever stop to think what an industry, luxury and I might say, necessity, our city papers are? When you sit down in your easy chair in the evening and eagerly scan its columns, did you ever think of the little chap—the newsie—who delivers the paper at your door? It is in the interest of these newsboys that this article is written, and the writer indulges the hope that the patrons of our daily papers will give to these boys some substantial token of recognition of their excellent and valuable services.

We are told not to "despise the day of small things." Many men now occupying high and honorable positions in the various departments of life, sprang from the ranks of the "newsies." These boys—most of them, if not all, are pupils of our schools, and are fitting themselves for the duties and responsibilities which will, in the very near future, devolve upon them. These "newsies" and others of like age, will soon be the custodians of this, the greatest republic on the globe; they will guide the ship of state; the destiny of this country, for good or ill, will be in their hands.

Now, at the glad Christmas time let us give them some token of recognition for the splendid service they have rendered, and are rendering to the public, that they may realize we have an interest in their present and future welfare; that we appreciate their service. These boys are all patriots. Every fiber of their being is impregnated with the spirit of loyalty and patriotism, as was evidenced during the period of "sounding the bugle" when they happened on one occasion to be at the west front of the courthouse when taps were sounded one evening. The "newsies" were busy vending the evening papers. At the first tap of the bell, these boys bowed their heads; assumed an attitude of reverence, and stood in that position until the last note of the bugle died away in the distance. We thought that was an object lesson in patriotism that might well be emulated by many of us of more mature years.

Let us manifest our interest in the "newsies" in some substantial way. The writer would suggest that each patron of the daily papers would procure a card with a "merry Christmas" greeting, place the card with name and a substantial silver offering in an envelope and hand it to the newsie when he delivers your paper. Christmas eve. When you look in his sparkling eyes and hear the glad "thank you," I feel assured you will be amply repaid for any effort you have made.

Let us try it and patiently await the result, which cannot be other than beneficial. What do you think? Would like to hear from others.

Civil War Veteran.

The Fin Han, representative of our church, I have just a few questions to ask, and a few remarks to make about this "tax" business.

Having been notified by the members of our very efficient 72 hour of health a few evenings since that ban would not be placed, our church people proceeded with their usual Christmas programs, our Health officer on being informed about it, forbid it positively.

Now I want to know, why the "flu" germs are so much livelier and deadlier, in the house of God, than they are in the saloons, pool rooms, picture shows and many business places of our city?

I feel sure as far as ventilation and sanitary conditions are concerned, our churches are far superior to the picture shows and crowded store rooms.

Please do not understand that the church is not willing to do her part in trying to combat this terrible disease. But we do not see any fairness or any judgment in drawing lines on the church and allowing everything else to run full tilt. What we would like to see is the ban put on everything, and then let on, long enough to do some good.

I can say that the christian people of Newark will not stand for another stunt, such as the saloons were permitted to pull off, when our other ban was on. But possibly had we backed up our claims our rights would have been respected also. Our health officers put up a pitiful appeal to the public last week and asked us not to kick at them. It is my own personal opinion that some of them deserve to be kicked clear out of office.

This may not be regarded by some as being a strictly christian-like epistle, but there is such a thing as righteous indignation, and I am merely voicing the sentiments of our church people.
